Richard,

When Wisconsin enacted its 20-week abortion ban, it passed the state Senate by just five votes.

Arizona's state Senate passed a bill limiting health insurance coverage for abortion by just five votes. And the Virginia state Senate passed a bill defunding Planned Parenthood by a one-vote margin.

Right now, dozens of states are considering even more anti-choice legislation — and whether these bills become law often comes down to just a handful of votes.

Fortunately, more than 10,000 pro-choice Democratic women have signed up to run for office as part of our Run to Win program. If we can elect even 100 of them in key state legislatures, it could change the lives of millions of women — really and truly.

Donate $3 today to change the tide and elect more pro-choice Democratic women than ever to state and local office.

Our support for state and local candidates can make a big difference, especially when you consider that a lot of local elections are decided by a small number of votes.

And on the local level, every dollar we raise goes further. Consider this: If you spend a little money in just the right spots with the right candidates, you can flip an ENTIRE state legislature.

We've got the women who want to run. Now we need to build the programs to support them.

Want to make a big political impact? Donate $3 to help recruit, train, and support the women who can protect choice and turn state legislatures blue:
